

CORPORATE VOLUNTEERING

Make it YOUR business to volunteer

DMAW Lawyers' at Treasure Boxes

Creating rewarding partnerships by connecting corporates (small businesses to large corporates) with volunteer involving organisations (community, not-for-profit and sporting groups) to achieve positive social and community outcomes. Corporate Volunteering is a key component to wellbeing programs, providing employees with paid leave (1-2 days a year) to contribute their time, knowledge and skills to volunteer for a worthy cause. There are two types of Corporate Volunteering.

Teams-based

Volunteer groups undertake an activity as a team either indoors or outdoors eg. gardening, painting, packing food hampers, creating walking paths, preparing and packing meals.

Skills-based

Individual volunteers offer their personal knowledge, expertise, and skills eg: HR, Finance, IT or Marketing.

Major Benefits

For the corporate

Increased company pride and loyalty from workforce.

Enhanced workforce relations.

Heightened image and positive recognition across business and community sectors.

For the workforce

Opportunities to meet new people.

Interact with workforce.

Make a difference in the community.

Gain new skills or use exiting skills in a new environment.

For the community

Access to different skills, knowledge, or technical expertise.

Access to teams of volunteers for major tasks and events.

Create corporate partnerships and potential income streams for community projects.

Improve understanding between corporate and community sectors.

Corporate Volunteering

Email

T (08) 8221 7177

Linkedin

CORPORATE VOLUNTEERING

Make it YOUR business to volunteer

Schneider Electric at Foodbank SA

Knight Frank at National Trust of SA

With respected connections to volunteer involving organisations, we manage everything for you – connecting your workforce to customised volunteering experiences that are enjoyable and worthwhile.

This includes:

Assisting in establishing formalised Corporate Volunteering programs (either team or skills-based).

Assisting in fostering a culture of community-based volunteering activities amongst co-workers.

Informing corporates and their workforce of the aims, benefits, and types of volunteering experiences available.

Promoting workforce volunteering efforts and achievements (if applicable).

One-off fee covering any costs incurred by Volunteering SA&NT and the volunteer involving organisation for the experience.

To participate in this program or to explore the opportunities available, please contact Volunteering SA&NT's Corporate Volunteering Program Coordinator.

Corporate Volunteering
Email
T (08) 8221 7177
Linkedin